Horrible Disaster in Colorado-A Car Containing Sixty Men Belonging to a Circus Takes Fire-Several Men Dead.

Takes Fire-Several Men Dead.

A Greeley (Col.) special of Friday says: The burning of a circus ear nine miles north of Greeley was attended with indescribable horrors. The burned ear was next to the engine, in a train of seventeen cars, containing Orton's Anglo-American circus, which left Fort Collins about midnight last night for Golden, over the Greeley, Salt Lake and Pacific railroad. The train was nearing W.adsor, a small stathon near Greeley, and was running at the rate of about twenty-five miles an hour, when Engineer Colleprist discovered the ear to be on fire and at once reversed his engine and threw open in the car, arranged in three tiers of bunks on either side. The forward side door was closed and men in bunks sleeping against it. The rear side door was closed, and the men who awoke discovered the lower unoccupied berth next to it, containing rubbish, on fire, filling the ear with smoke and cutting off escape in that direction. The only means of egress was through a small window between the car and engine. John Pine Edgerton, of Wisconsin, and Elmer Millett, of Iowa, crowded through this opening and tried to pass in water from the engine-tank. the engine-tank.

TRYING TO SAVE THE VICTIMS.

Owing to the suffocating gases it was difficult to arouse the sleepers, and some were kicked and bruised in a shocking manner and putched out of the window. The screams of those unable to get through the blockade to the apperture were terrifying. The wild giare of the fames and the sight of the burning victims outside, who lay writhing in agony on the cacuse beds, caused the wild beasts in the adjoining car to become frantic with terror, making the scene appalling. The performers, who occupied the rear car, gazed with white faces on the awful spectacle. In the midst of the confusion two or three heroic souls appeared. Equal to the occasion, they bravely cut their way to their companions, to find them already in the agony of death. Albert Lake, in charge of the animals, and his friend Kent walked over cactus in their bare feet, pouring buckets of oil on the blistered unfortunates and wrapping them in blankets. An old Pacific-coast soldier named Mc-Donald, formerly of Forepaugh's show, was terribly burned, his flesh hanging in

A SCENE OF HORROR.

The heartrending cries of the men on the prairie, the smothered appeals of the dving within the car, the roaring flames, and the howling of the animals made the situation terrible beyond description. The odor of roasting flesh and the distant cry of the coyote added to the general horror. The voices of the dying grew fainter, and soon ceased. The engine had gone to Greeley for assistance, and returned with Dr. Jesse Howes, president of the State Medical Association. Many of the rescued in being pulled through the small windows of the car had their limbs broken and joints dislocated. At daylight a flat-car omis dislocated. At daylight a flat-car arried the charred bodies into Greeley for interment, EURIED IN ONE IMMENSE COFFIN, BURIED IN ONE IMMENSE COFFIN.

The county commissioners buried the remains in a coffin seven feet wide and ten feet long, in the Greeley cemetery. The Rev. Mr. Reed, a Presbyterian minister, conducted the funeral services. The coroner impanelled a jury, but they were unable to learn the cause of the fire or any important facts, as the managers, with the remainder of the company, left immediately for Golden, to fill an engagement. It is impossible to get a complete list of the dead, as many were engaged but a day or two, and their names are unknown.

The names of the dead as far as known are as follows: Alexander McLeod, Marinette, Wis.; Thomas Kelly, New York city, and others known only as "Siverthorn," "Andy," "Frenchy," "Frank," "George," and "Smithie," and one unknown.

BADLY BURNED, BUT ALIVE. The following is a list of the sufferers now at St. Luke's Hospital, in this city:
E. E. Fairbanks, aged twenty-two, arms, legs, and face badly burned; Albert Borden, aged seventeen, of Logan, Kan., arms and face badly burned: Thomas Golden, aged seventeen, of Detroit, Mich., very badly burned on face and legs; N. J. Zimmerman, aged eighteen, of St. Louis, Mich., arms, legs, face, and back fearfully burned; Frank King, of Menominee, Mich., badly burned about bands and feet; Michael McGlinn, aged twenty-eight, of Holton, Mich., face aged twenty-eight, of Holton, Mich., face and hands badly burned; Hugh O'Donnell, aged fifty-six, of New Orleans, badly burned about the face, arms, hands, and back, will probably die.

A number of the rescued agree that in the cars were two barrels of gasoline, which exploded either from sparks from the engine or from the naked torch with which the men were accustomed to light them-selves to bed.

A GRAND SWINDLING SCHEME.

A special from Pittsburgh, Pa., says: There has just been developed at New Cas-tle, Pa., a scheme by which a party, as yet tle, Pa., a scheme by which a party, as yet unknown, has been endeavoring to work of $600,000 of the bonds of a mythical railroad in Western Pennsylvania upon English capitalists. It seems a letter addressed to the New Castle and Middlesex Railway Company was received at the New Castle (Pa.) post-office, and there being no corporation of that name, the postmaster placed the communication in the box of the New Castle Northern. It was from a London advertising agency, enclosing the advertisement of the New Castle and Middlesex bonds referred to. Inquiry of the Secrement of the New Castle and Middlesex bonds referred to. Inquiry of the Secretary of the Commonwealth showed that there was no such a corporation. Subsequently the prospectus of the New Castle and Middlesex was received from London. It gave the address of the office as 15 Courtland street, New York city, which is the office of Thomas P. Simpson, contractor of the New Castle Northern, whose contract was recently annulled by the United States Circuit Court, and in which the decree was filed as lately as vesterday.

Circuit Court, and in which the decree was filed as lately as yesterday.

The prospection bears the names of William Pattern on, 'New Castle, president of the Lawrence County Bank; William Vankirk, of Pittsburgh, vfee-president of the Tradesmen's National Bank and vice-president of the Junction Railroad Company, and John Todd, of Cleveland, Ohio, vice-president of the New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio Railroad Company. Mr. Patterson denies that he knows anything of the bonds or that his name was used the beautiful of the property of the state of the control of the property of the prope Patterson denies that he knows anything of the bonds or that his name was used with his knowledge. The first Mr. Vankirk knew of the matter was when a reporter told him of it. The names of both Patterson and Vankirk having been used without any authority whatever, it is possible, too, that the swindlers took similar liberty with that of Mr. Todd.

SUICIDE OF A YOUNG GIRL.

An Allentown (Pa.) special says: Mary Fatzinger, aged seventeen years, after eating supper last evening and helping her mother clear away the dishes, in the meanwhile humming an air and apparently in cheerful spirits, left her home last night to visit a spirits, left her home last night to visit a friend, Miss Evans, in another part of the city. While at the house of Miss Evans two young men, named Menges and Oswaid, called, and the party had quite a jolly time. Menges had been paying attentions to Miss Fatzinger, and about 10:30 o'clock left the house to go to the latter's home. About midnight the mother of the girl awoke, and, not finding her daughter in bed, concluded that perhaps she could not find the key to unlock the back door, and had gone to a neighbor's for lodging. The mother dressed herself and went down stairs. As she opened the back door to see whether the key was at its accustomed whether the key was at its accustomed place, a horrible sight mether eyes. There-cold in death, hung the form of her daughter. At the inquest this morning the evidence heard failed to cast any light on the motive that induced the girl to commit the act. It is believed that on her way home she and her lover had a quartel, and that she determined to end her life.

When informed of the girl's suicide the young man made a heartless remark, and did not seem to be affected.

During the recent hot weather in and near London the maximum temperature in the city proper was 93° in the shade. At Greenwich in the shade the maximum was 94.2°, and in the sun at Greenwich 150.8°. At the Crystal Palace in London the highest was 97.5°. At Chatham dock-yards workmen found it difficult to continue their labor on the armored ships, and several were prostrated.

THE BALTIMORES WIN.

The Virginias played the last game before afternoon, their opponents being the Baltimores. The visitors had Emshe and Traffley as their battery, and the home team had Meegan and Hanna. The game was not marked by any very brilliant playing on either side. Both pitchers were fairly effective in keeping the batters down, the Baltimores only getting five scattering hits (one a three-bagger) off Meegan, while the home boys only made four, including a home run, off Emsile. Goose-eggs were successively scored against the Virginias up to the seventh inning, the Baltimores, meanwhile, through ugly errors by their opponents, scored four runs, and in the third inning one that was carned. The seventh inning was begun by Clinton, who went out at first, Burns followed with a safe hit, and Casey went out on a fly to Johnston. Then with Stearns at the bat trying to hit Meegan, Burns was caught between first and second, attempting to steal the latter, and was put out. Powell got first on being hat by Emsle, and stole second. Larkin failed to get to first, and Powell got to third on a passed ball by Traffley. Then Johnston came to the bat and hit a high, long fly to the left field, which Clinton failed to get under, the ball going among the vehicles to the feet field, which Clinton failed to get under, the ball going among the vehicles to the feet field, which Clinton failed to get under, the ball going among the vehicles to the feet field, which Clinton failed to get under, the ball going among the vehicles to the feet field, which Clinton failed to get under, the ball going among the vehicles to the feet field, which Clinton failed to get under, the ball going among the vehicles to the feet field, which Clinton failed to get under, the ball going among the vehicles to the feet field, which Clinton failed to get under, the ball going among the vehicles to the feet field, which Clinton failed to get under, the ball going among the vehicles to the feet field, which Clinton failed to get under, the ball going among the vehicle sto came to the bat and hit a high, long by to the left field, which Clinton failed to get under, the ball going among the vehicles to the fence, and before it could be neided in Johnston had crossed the home plate. Powell having previously come home in a jog trot. The speciators fairly yelled themselves hoarse at this unexpected play, and Johnston was cheered to the echo. The inning was closeed by Schenek striking out, and Meegan going out on a foul. At this point an effort was made by the visitors to have the game called, for the alleged reason that it was too dark to play. This, in face of the fact that it still lacked twenty-five minutes of sunset, and the sun was showing brightly through broken clouds. After a moment's consultation, during which he crowd noisily demanded that the game should proceed, the playing was continued through another inning, in which both sides were blanked. Rain then beginning to fall, with a prospect for a heavy shower, the game was brought to a close.

Umpire Griffith's decisions in several instances were very faulty, and as they were given to the advantage of the visitors, the spectators received them with considerable disapprobation. He was hooted, jeered, and exived freely.

when wells are dug and good water is reached, the water will rise to what is known as the "water-level," which may be three to five feet deep, while many persons go still deeper, so as to give additional depth to the water. And now we will suppose a well to have four feet of water in it. This, of course, must be dipped out before the terra-cotta pipe is put in position, and then fill in with gravel first and earth next until the well is filled up to the level of the ground, and when the water returns—as return it will—forcing a channel through all obstructions into the pipe, it will also rise outside as well as inside of the pipe to the same height as before—say at least four feet—where all surface-water will have to stop. The best well-fixture for such a well is a galvanized-iron bucket twenty inches long by eight inches in diameter, with a valve in the bottom, fixed to a little windlass. When it is let down it carries a fresh current of air with it, and when it comes up it displaces all impure air that might be otherwise in the well. Moreover, a well thus fixed is easily kept clean. You have but to sink a galvanized-iron pau eight inches deep and nine inches in diameter, with a strong rib or bail across the top, and this you can hook out whenever you think the well needs cleaning.
